

Two More Weeks to Boot Camp!

Along with my 'normal' work, I've been busy putting together the final touches on our Independence Boot Camp, which promises to be a lot of fun — and a great learning experience! The cost has been reduced to just $2000 for this transition training, which will help successfully fledge higher-functioning neurodiverse teens.

Club Neuro Starts in JUNE!

Don't forget that Club Neuro is starting on the 12th this month! This drop-in club is open to all neurodiverse kids ages 14 and over provided they are (or were) clients or I have prescreened them (free of charge) — admission is $15 at the door to cover food and drinks. Come three times, and get a cool Club Neuro shirt! Starts June 12th and runs as long as there is interest.

Reminder...

Don't forget that the Professional Driving School is offering a package rate of $300 for three driver's training sessions until the end of June for EvoLibri clients. Call Patrick at 650 669-6200!

Growing EvoLibri

Part of any new endeavor is outreach and networking. While I continue to build my referral list to include psychiatrists specializing in psychopharmacology, speech therapists who work with adults, special education/ADA attorneys and educational advocates, I am also trying to reach out into the community.

This last month, I focused primarily on community outreach, and am excited to report that I will be working with Santa Clara University to help train their career and counseling staff on neurodiversity, have met with the Mid-Peninsula YMCA to discuss co-developing an after school care program for neurodiverse elementary school kids, will be working with the Palo Alto Buddhist Temple on an inclusion program for youth, and have been interviewing at Foothill College as a part time instructor. I also presented at Stanbridge Academy this month, and had a booth at the San Andreas Regional Center's Autism conference...a BUSY month!

Upcoming Parent's Information Nights...

We have just one more session of PINs before we take a summer break!

June 3	College Selection for Neurodiverse Teens	How to select the perfect college and college program for your teen.
Sept 2	College Preparedness	What will your teen need to be prepared for in college? Come find out!

All information nights start at 7:00 pm and cost $15 at the door. Light refreshments are served, and each session includes handouts and discussion periods.
