

Introducing...Independence Seminars!

You asked for it...and so, we'll do it! Starting in September, we'll be offering the most popular segments of the two-week Independence Boot Camp in one-day seminars. Seminars are limited to four participants each, so that students will get plenty of hands-on practice and 1:1 training. From Personal Finance to Organization, don't miss the opportunity to get your teen or young adult ready for leaving the nest! See below for dates...

EvoLibri Consulting

Give a Listen — Remarkably Able!

Monday nights at 9 pm, tune in to 1100KFNX.com via internet streaming, and listen to Dr. Jackie Marquette's radio talk show, Remarkably Able, which discusses transition issues that ASD teens and young adults and their families face. Jackie's book, Becoming Remarkably Able: Walking the Path to Talents, Interests, and Personal Growth, was published by AAPC (who published my book last year). Give a listen to this remarkable show, and call in with ideas, stories, or questions.

Club Neuro Continues...

Club Neuro!
more than a mind...

August 7, come meet us at Century Cinema in Mountain View on Shoreline at 6:30 — exact movie TBD, but something along the lines of Hancock or Hellboy II. I'll send out an email the week of giving more details after the schedules are released. Also, Club Neuro WILL continue through the school year — though we will likely move the day to Fridays...keep on coming, enjoy activities and the camaraderie with the other Neuro-ites — and get a T-SHIRT!
